CULTURE AND TRADITIONS OF LANGKAWI

Description

A fascinating island, a borderland where different cultures and traditions meet and merge with each other and where each of the ethnic groups present leaves its special and unmistakable mark, making this enchanting place a must-see for anybody visiting the Far East.

What we will see

- Malay Kampung
- Laman Padi and Museum
- Craft Cultural Complex
- Eagle Square

What we will do

- We set off on our excursion to discover the main places of interest for culture and tradition on this wonderful island. We go through green stretches of rice fields and pastures where we can spot various herds of cows and buffaloes. The local villages are very interesting and characteristic, the so-called Malay Kampung, scattered all over the island with their typical Malay architectural structure.
- Our first stop is the Laman Padi, literally "rice field" in Malay. It is a vast complex of rice fields and vegetable gardens and also includes a small but interesting museum dedicated to the process and the evolution of the cultivation and harvesting of rice, a staple and irreplaceable food as well as the country's major export, just like the rest of the East in general. In the museum we are given an illustration of the various phases of the cultivation of this important cereal which has represented the backbone of Malaysia's economic activity since ancient times.
- We then move on to the Craft Cultural Complex, on the north coast of the island. Nestling on the ridge of a hill overlooking the sea, in a particularly beautiful position, the splendid building houses a vast exclusive assortment of Malaysian crafts, fine batik work, bamboo, wooden and metal goods, rattan baskets of all sizes, finely crafted silverware, jewellery and much more.
- In this spacious complex dedicated to crafts we also find two galleries; one boasts a large display of local crafts and traditional Malay musical instruments, and the other features brightly coloured wedding gowns which are typical of the different local ethnic groups.
- The last stop of our excursion is Eagle Square, where we can have our photograph taken with the giant sculpture of an eagle which dominates the Kuah seafront.
- There is limited availability of English-language guides.
- We recommend that you book early because only a limited number of places are available.
- The itinerary may be subject to change.
- Comfortable shoes are recommended.
- Not all coaches are air conditioned.

TROPICAL FLORA AND FAUNA IN THE LANGKAWI GEOPARK

Description

We explore one of the largest Geoparks in the East. It is also one of the most interesting because of its uniqueness and due to the abundance of different animal and plant species.

What we will see

- Langkawi Geopark

What we will do

- We set off from the port of Langkawi for Kilim Jetty where we board small 8 seater fibreglass boats which take us to the geopark.
- We embark on this adventure, equipped with binoculars and cameras, in one of the most spectacular geoparks of the whole Asian continent. The Langkawi Geopark was the first to be founded in the extreme north-west of the Malaysian Peninsula. We visit a fish farm where wooden platforms allow us to walk around between the different tanks to observe the different species of fish.
- As we go along the trail through the Geopark we can see majestic sea eagles eagerly diving into the sea to catch their prey, or clouds of bats enjoying their customary daytime sleep, hanging head down in a rocky cavity formed millions of years ago, which also offers the unique and extraordinary spectacle of a succession of stalactites and stalagmites in a truly unspoiled habitat. *Before returning to the ship we have a break in one of the many duty free complexes where we can indulge in last minute purchases at very low prices.
- The excursion includes a local English speaking guide who will provide general information on the places we visit.
- We recommend that you book early because only a limited number of places are available.
- The itinerary may be subject to change.
- Comfortable shoes and sportswear are recommended.

EXPLORING THE ISLAND OF LEGENDS: LANGKAWI
Description

Discovering the so-called "Island of Legends", a remote location which explains why it is such a paradise. It became a popular destination after it acquired duty-free status in 1987.

What we will see

- Rubber production
- Mahsuri Mausoleum
- Eagle Square and Glass Blowing Studio

What we will do

- Our excursion begins with a visit to a plantation where latex is extracted from a rubber tree. Although the famous "rubber tree" is native to the Amazon region, towards the end of the 19th century it was exported to Asia and caught on mainly in South-East Asia where it has flourished ever since. The production of natural rubber, obtained from the extraction of latex from the plant by making perpendicular incisions in the bark, is a very lucrative business for the island. Here we can see the skill of local workers as they make these incisions to extract the precious liquid.
- We continue on our excursion and visit a place that is quite renowned on the island because it is linked to one of the main local legends. The Mahsuri Mausoleum is a must for anybody visiting the island. Mahsuri is the most popular legendary character in Langkawi: according to the legend she was an extremely beautiful woman, the daughter of a couple who had landed on the island in search of a better life. She became the wife of a valiant warrior and when her husband left to fight in the war, she was falsely accused of adultery by the village chief's wife, who had become desperately jealous of her beauty. Although she protested her innocence, she was sentenced to death and executed by repeated stabbing with a keris (a traditional Malay weapon). It is said that she bled white blood from her wounds, a sign of her innocence, and that before breathing her last breath, Mahsuri cursed the island, predicting bad luck for seven generations. Today the seven generation course has now come to an end and many people in Langkawi believe that the island's recent prosperity coincides with the end of the curse.

- And as a fitting end we move on to another truly unique attraction: Eagle Square, dominated by the gigantic sculpture of an eagle about to soar into the sky. The eagle is the symbol of the island, whose name Langkawi in colloquial Malay means island of the "reddish brown eagle", like the one here. We end our excursion at the Glass Blowing Studio, where we can make some purchases and take home some typical souvenirs from this wonderful island.
- There is limited availability of English-language guides.
- We recommend that you book early because only a limited number of places are available.
- The itinerary may be subject to change.
- This excursion is not recommended for guests with mobility problems.
- Not all coaches are air conditioned.

THE THRILL OF BIRD WATCHING ON A TROPICAL ISLAND

Description

More than 200 species of birds to observe, including rare species and migrant species from distant Siberia, in the magnificent countryside of the tropical island of Langkawi, for a unique and unforgettable bird watching experience.

What we will see

- Bird Watching on the Island of Langkawi
- Gunung Raya lookout point
- Lowlands lookout point

What we will do

The Island of Langkawi is home to around 200 bird species, many of which are migrants which come to spend the winter here in the warm climate, from November to April. This obviously makes it the ideal place for all bird watching enthusiasts. * Langkawi boasts a huge variety of ecosystems and natural habitats making it a comfortable resting place for birds. This is why a wide variety of avifauna is always present on the island. An ecosystem like that of this authentic tropical paradise made up of lowlands, tropical forests and mangroves, reed beds, rice fields, orchards, steppes and marshy lakes offers an ideal environment for birds, both migratory and resident. * In our 5 hours of bird watching, we may see up to 20-30 different bird species which populate the jungle, the rice fields or the river which crosses Langkawi. * The first lookout point is Gunung Raya, the highest mountain on the island. With an altitude of 881 m, the mountain dominates the island, commanding an excellent view for sightings, mainly of mountain birds. * We then proceed and descend towards the lowlands and the rice fields in search of birds that do not venture to great heights, preferring the more peaceful and sleepy atmosphere of the marshes, the reed beds and the plains in general. We can really have fun with our sightings, keeping ready to take photographs and capture images of these wonderful, brightly coloured specimens. At the end of our expedition we return to the ship.

- Migratory birds are seasonal.
- Participants are advised to wear long or short trousers, a t-shirt and a hat and to bring binoculars.
- Guests will be provided with a complete list of birds you can spot on the island.
- We cannot guarantee bird sightings as they roam in complete freedom in their natural habitat.
- You need to be physically fit to take part in this excursion.
- A naturalist guide will accompany us on the excursion and provide information in English. No information will be provided during the outbound and return ship journey.
- The price of the excursion includes a bottle of water and binoculars (if necessary).
- Minimum age: 12 years.
- Maximum age: 65 years.
- We recommend that you book early because only a limited number of places are available.

What we will see

- Mini cruise on a traditional boat

- Barbecue on the beach

What we will do

- In the morning we board a traditional Malay boat with both sails and an engine and we leave the port of Awana Malai behind us to sail around the Island of Langkawi. We proceed over calm waters so we can relax and read a book or sip a drink served at the on-board bar which will be open throughout our mini cruise.
- The real attraction of this excursion are the casual encounters with creatures that inhabit this tropical paradise: indeed, we will be able to spot dolphins and fish darting out of the water.
- At the end of the morning we land in a stunning deserted beach where a barbecue lunch is served accompanied by a huge variety of different salads. Furthermore, the beach is the perfect place to relax as we swim or as we are massaged by the waves, or simply sunbathe.
- In the afternoon we board the catamaran again to sail to one of the special rallying points for sea eagles, the symbol of the Island of Langkawi, to watch them as they plunge into the water to catch their prey. From here we set off for our last part of our boat trip back to the pier from where we left and from there we return to the ship.
- The excursion includes a local English speaking guide who will provide general information on the places we visit.
- We recommend that you book early because only a limited number of places are available.
- The itinerary may be subject to change.
- The boat is motor-powered.
- Do not forget to bring your bathing costume, a towel, sunglasses, a hat and sun cream.
- In the event of adverse weather conditions or rough sea the excursion may be cancelled without warning.

Penang

CLASSIC TOUR OF GEORGETOWN IN THE STATE OF PENANG

Description

A pleasant excursion to inebriate our senses with the views and scents of Georgetown to enjoy a true Malaysian experience and surround ourselves with the most authentic sides of the city and region of Penang.

What we will see

- Khoo Kongsi
- Baba Nyonya Museum

What we will do

- We leave the port and head to Khoo Kongsi, the building where a Chinese clan used to meet and is now one of the country's most extraordinary constructions of great historic and cultural value. The Chinese term "kongsi" literally means "company" or "meeting hall". These facilities had a number of functions and services both for families belonging to the same clan and to facilitate relationships between Chinese migrants, to celebrate civil and religious ceremonies – especially those relating to the cult of the ancestors – and to foster business relationships. The richness and complex structure of a "kongsi" can reflect the status of a particular clan and its position within the local economy.
- As regards the architecture of Khoo Kongsi, we can see how the walls, columns and roof are decorated with complex carvings, statues, detailed painting and coloured tiles.
- We then move to visit another of Georgetown's gems, the Baba Nuonya museum, also known as "Pinang Peranakan Mansion" or "Chung Keng Kwee Museum", as it used to be the private residence of the Chinese Chief of the Hai San Secret Society. The building, a magnificent eclectic villa, is a true architectural marvel. The late Victorian influence is particularly evident in the profusion of cast-iron decorations, among the few in Penang to have survived the Japanese occupation.
- The accurate restoration work, the splendid antique furniture and magnificent woodwork will leave us truly speechless.
- There is limited availability of English-language guides.
- The itinerary may be subject to change.
- We recommend that you book early because only a limited number of places are available.
- Comfortable shoes are recommended.
- Dress code that is appropriate for the places of worship to be visited is recommended.
- We recommend bringing insect repellent.

What we will do

While crossing the main commercial neighbourhood of the Georgetown suburbs, we admire the Penang Government House. On our way towards the Botanical Gardens, we drive along streets flanked with gigantic goldenrain trees, fantastic residential buildings and some amazing colonial houses built under British rule.

We finally reach the marvellous Penang Botanical Gardens, also known as the Waterfall Gardens, where we take a lovely stroll. In the park, opened by the British in 1884, we can admire various species of indigenous and hybrid orchids, cactuses, ferns, bamboo plants as well as flowering trees and shrubs and, if not too shy, we might also spot a few long-tailed macaques.

A hundred meters from the entrance of the Botanical Gardens, there is a batik factory where we can observe how fabric is decorated using wax and dyes.

We then move on to the lively seafront, where we can admire evocative stilt houses built by the first Chinese immigrants, a precious testimony of Penang's past.

Our next stop is the Baba Nyonya Heritage Museum, also known as Pinang Peranakan Mansion or Chung Keng Kwee Museum, as it used to be the private residence of the Chinese Chief of the Hai San Secret Society. The building is a magnificent eclectic villa and is a true architectural marvel. The late-Victorian influence is particularly evident in the profusion of cast-iron decorations, among the few in Penang to have survived Japanese occupation. The palace was completely restored and now displays beautiful antique furniture and precious woodwork.

A Baba guide expert in Baba Nyonya culture and Chinese Feng Shui will illustrate in detail the meaning of many of the items on display.

In the family temple next to the building, there is a life-size statue of Chung Keng Kwee himself in traditional Mandarin clothing with a Manchu hat.

What we will do

The first stop on our tour is Kek Lok Si, the largest Buddhist temple in South-East Asia. The monument is located on a hill on the outskirts of the city and is made up of a series of building including the ‘Pagoda of Ten Thousand Buddhas’, so called due to its countless alabaster and bronze Buddha statues. The artificial lake surrounded by a garden and known as ‘Sacred Turtle Pond’ is also very picturesque, as it is populated with hundreds of turtles which, in the Chinese tradition, are symbols of longevity, strength and patience.

We then head to the colourful Thai Buddhist Temple with its statue of the reclining Buddha, the fourth longest in the world (32 metres long).

The Burmese Buddhist Temple located across the road is a further testimony of Penang's wealth of cultural diversity. After lunch, we reach Batu Ferringhi, the northernmost tip of Penang, where we visit the Butterfly Farm. Here, we have to opportunity to enter a wonderful aviary surrounded by a myriad of tropical butterflies.

We then move on to a large shopping centre where we can take advantage of the competitive prices thanks to the weak Malaysian Ringgit and absence of custom duties.

Before returning to the ship, we stop at a tranquil Malaysian village to take a few photos.

SIGHTSEEING TOUR OF THE ISLAND OF PENANG

Description

From the busy seafont of Georgetown to the Penang countryside - this tour will enable us to see the whole island and admire some its most interesting sights.

What we will see

Khoo Kongsi
 Panoramic view of the Batu Ferringhi bay
 Batik local shop
 Kampung

What we will do

Our excursion starts with a visit to the renowned Khoo Kongsi temple, the most sumptuous in all of Malaysia whose walls, pillars and roofs are decorated with carvings representing the marks of Chinese master craftsmen. The temple was rebuilt in 1920 after being destroyed by a fire probably caused by lightning. Due to its similarity to the Chinese Imperial Palace, many interpreted the event as a divine omen. The original structure was much bigger than that rebuilt in 1906. The current temple, however, boasts a hall decorated with richly carved sculptures and beams decorated by master craftsmen coming directly from China.

From the temple, located on Penang's northern side, we can admire the lovely panoramic view of the beautiful Batu Ferringhi's bays.

We then stop in a local batik shop, where we can appreciate the great skill with which fabric is decorated using wax and dye, while carnation and walnut essences inebriate our senses on the way through the hills.

We make a brief stop at a fruit stall selling spices and typical local fruit.

Before heading back to the port, we will also explore the other side of Penang with its tranquil Malay or Kampung villages where we can take in the authentic Malaysian spirit.

There is limited availability of English-language guides; if these are not available the local guide's commentary will be translated by a local interpreter.

The itinerary may be subject to change.

Comfortable shoes are recommended.

We recommend bringing insect repellent.
